Competition is the Soul of Trade.

THE TIME FOR DEALERS TO lay in their Fall and Winter stock of Clothing is close at hand, and the aim of every one being to buy in the best and cheapest market, the undersigned deems it only due to the trading community and to themselves to draw attention to their

PIONEER CLOTHING ESTABLISHMENT,

(WHOLESALE ONLY),

Northwest corner of Main and Fifth streets.

They have profited by the dull times of the past months in making up and laying in a stock of Clothing in advance for the approaching season, such as cannot be competed with by any other houses in their line.

The stock consists of every variety of Garments from the Swallow-tail of the Man of fashion to the rough Market Coat of the digger of the soil, with full suits to match.

As they ask less an investigation of their goods. They are determined to convince the most sceptical that their stock is the stock of the season. A genial invitation is hereby tendered to the trade to call and examine.

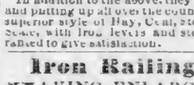
PIANO FORTES! PIANO FORTES!!



PETERS, CRAGG & CO. are now finishing at their factory, on Main street,

SIX PIANOS PER WEEK.

The great demand for these Pianos, from wholesale buyers, having induced the proprietors to largely increase their manufacturing force, they are enabled now to furnish all who are in want of instruments at the lowest wholesale or retail prices. Retail buyers are assured that they can save an average of the per cent usually realized from the usual circle of one and a quarter per cent profits, by purchasing without the trouble and annoyance of visiting the establishment where these Pianos are manufactured.

The Pianos, as to quality, tone, and finish, are WARRANTED equal to the best Eastern make; their square Pianos, the only class of the two kinds now manufactured, having just received the premium at the fair of the Mechanics' Institute, when in competition with those of Chickering & Sons, of Boston, and Nunns & Clark, of New York.

Important Notice.

We find it necessary to call the attention of our yearly advertisers to the fact that after the 1st of January, 1856, we shall confine them strictly to their contracts, or, what amounts to the same, charge extra for all over and above. Some of our advertisers have been getting about twice as much as their contracts called for; we cannot permit it any longer. See our published terms.

☞ The editor of the Louisville Journal makes a prodigious display of his notions about the speeches of Richardson and Fuller defining their positions the other day, but after all, the chief difference is, that one is explicit and the other is n't. Every one understands what Richardson means, whilst it is not certain what the views of Fuller are. There is a vast difference between the antecedents of the men. Richardson has been a member of Congress for a long series of years. There is his record always against Abolitionism and Freesoilism. He voted to annex Texas. When the South wished the Missouri compromise line, Richardson voted with the South. When [illegible] ted, with the mass of Southern men, against the Wilmot proviso measure. He supported the territorial bills of 1850 in Congress and at home. He engineered through Congress the Kansas-Nebraska bill, against the combined forces of Abolitionism and Know-Nothingism in Congress and at home. The South has not a mark against his strict justice to her.

Such is the record of Richardson. It is long and consistent, and but one way. He said the other day that the exercise of the power of Congress to exclude slavery from all the Territories would be unjust and wrong. That is a reason good and sufficient. It is not a reason founded on expediency, as the editor of the Journal pretends, but one founded on justice and right. Richardson would not say, however, that when he voted with the whole South to extend the line 36° 30' through Texas and California, that he violated the Constitution of the United States. By that act, he and the whole South voted to exclude slavery from all Territories North of that line. He did not believe then that he violated the Constitution, and doesn't believe it yet. He can afford to say so; he has no need to eat dirt to satisfy the South of his disposition to do her justice; there is his record. He could easily have said that he had changed his views, in common with the whole South, and that he now believed such an exercise of power was not warranted by the Constitution. He had every temptation to say so, and none to say otherwise but his own self-respect. He had always been just to the South, and could therefore afford to be just to himself.

But how stands Fuller? He was elected by the Anti-Slavery party, and holds his seat by their votes. He has no record to recommend him to Southern confidence; and what does he say—"He had never advocated, and did not now advocate the constitutionality of the Wilmot proviso." What does that amount to? If he meant to say what the editor of the Journal and the Know-Nothings South would make out of it, why did he not say—I have ever held, and now hold, the Wilmot proviso unconstitutional? Why does he use the pretermitting expression—"He never advocated, and does not now advocate, the constitutionality of the Wilmot proviso?" Suppose he never did advocate it, and does not now advocate it; he said not a month before "that if the Missouri compromise could be restored he would vote for it." Voting for it is, by a Know-Nothing dodge, not advocating it. The only reason he gave at that time for not voting to restore the Missouri compromise was, that he might avoid agitation, not that it was either unconstitutional or unjust. The reader is aware that if the Missouri compromise is constitutional, the Wilmot provisois; for Congress has as much power on one side of a line as it has on the other.

Fuller does not hold the Wilmot proviso unconstitutional, and has not said so. He dodged the question; and well he might. He had said the contrary a few weeks before on the floor of Congress. As to the rest of what Mr. Fuller says, we here reproduce it to examine it, for Know-Nothing prevarication and shuffling are proverbial:

As to the third interrogatory, he had never taken a position on the subject, nor was he willing to pronounce upon it now. Slavery existed before the Constitution, and, in his judgment, now existed independent of the Constitution. When the people of the confederate States met by their representatives in convention to form the Constitution, slavery existed in an[illegible] one of the States of the Confederacy. The people having the right to hold slaves conceded, through their representatives, the right to prohibit the importation of them after the year 1808.

They made no concession so far as regarded the extension of domestic slavery. They claimed the right, and it was granted to them, to reclaim slaves in cases of escape. They claimed the right of representation, and it was granted. He held that Congress had no right to legislate upon the subject of slavery, and that the Territories are the common property of all the States. The people of all the States, therefore, had a right to enter upon and occupy that Territory, and were protected by the flag of the country. He thought that Congress had no right to legislate it into, or exclude it from a Territory; and, in his judgment, the Territorial Legislature had no right to legislate upon the subject, except so far as to protect the citizens of the Territory in the enjoyment of their property.

Here are a string of assertions which no Abolitionist denies. Slavery existed before the Constitution—a fact Giddings would say. It was independent of the Constitution—a fact again. Slavery existed in all the States but one when the Constitution was formed—who denies it? Several assertions follow that nobody questions.

The last few sentences mean nothing, except one. He thought that Congress had no right to legislate it into, or exclude it [what?] from, the Territories. We shall allow here, that it refers to slavery, although Mr. Fuller may safely deny it when he gets home to his Abolition constituents; for it has no grammatical antecedent. Allowing this, the sentence has a meaning, and it is the only one that has in the whole tirade; but the said Fuller takes care not to say that Congress has no constitutional right, for he does not mean that, unless he has changed his opinion in the last month.

Then comes the declaration that the Legislatnre of the Territory has no right to legislate on the subject, "except so far as to protect the citizens in the enjoyment of their property." We shall grant that the said Fuller means property in slaves, although he takes care not to say it. And here, pretending to deny the power of the Territorial Legislature, he admits it all in the exception. Suppose the Territorial Legislature does not make laws for the protection of slave property, what will become of it, and of what use will it be? Giving the power to protect property is giving effectual power over the whole subject. The mere abstract right to property, legislation does not affect. It must supply the remedies against the violation of the right; and when the Territorial Legislatnre is invested with the right of prescribing the remedies, the right to protect, it has the effectual power over the whole subject. So Fuller denies, and then admits, the power of the Territorial Legislatnre. The truth is, if a majority of the people of Kansas want slavery, they will protect that species of property; and if they do not, they will protect it to death. They have no need to enact that slavery shall not exist. They can pass an act to protect slave property, and thereby drive it away. Indeed any community, whether a Territory or a State, can have slavery, or exclude it, in spite of all foreign influence, constitution or no constitution, law or no law. The people of Kansas will have it their own way, and Congress had just as well let it stand as it is, and concede the power where it exists, as the Kansas-Nebraska bill does.

We republish the remarks of Richardson on these points:

In 1803 we acquired Louisiana; it was slave territory. In 1820 we divided, by a line of 36° 30', that territory; North of the line it was to be free. In 1845 we annexed Texas; that was slave territory. We divided that by extending the line of 36° 30' through that; North to be free. In 1848 we acquired territory from Mexico, that was free. I voted repeatedly to extend the same line West to the Pacific ocean. I voted for that line with a few Representatives from the North, and the whole body of Southern Representatives. When I gave those votes I did not believe then, nor do I believe now, that I violated the Constitution of the United States. If you have the power under the Constitution to exclude slavery from half of a Territory, I think you have power to exclude from all, though such an exercise would be unjust and wrong. I have never, therefore, voted to exercise that power except upon the principle of compromise.

* * * *

The Constitution does not, in my opinion, carry the institutions of any of the States into the Territories; but it affords the same protection there to the institutions of one State as of another. The citizen of Virginia has as much right in the common territory, to the protection of his property under the Constitution as the citizen of Illinois, but both are dependent upon the legislation of the Territorial Government for laws to protect their property, of whatever kind it may be. Thus it will be seen that though there may be upon this point a difference theoretically—involving questions for judicial decision—yet there is none, practically, among the friends of non-intervention by Congress, as the practical result is to place the decision of the question in the hands of those who are most deeply interested in its solution—namely the people of the Territory—who have made it their home, and whose interests are the most deeply involved in the character of the institutions under which they are to live.

It will be seen that Richardson has the practical sense to discriminate between the abstract question of power and the practical result of legislative protection. Invest a body with the right to provide remedies against wrongs done to property in slaves, and such a body has the practical power to render such property valuable or useless; to drive it ont of the community, or retain it.

There is no difference, then, between the views of Richardson and those of Fuller, either on the power of Congress over slavery in the Territories, or the power of the Territorial Legislature over the same subject.

There is a vast difference, however, in the antecedents of the men. Richardson has a long, unblemished record on this subject. Fuller was only a few months ago in the worst sort of company. It is but lately, since votes were needed, that he has astonished all his former acquaintances by his Southern views.

We see that one Democrat from Mississippi and two or three from South Carolina, are too fastidious to vote for Richardson since his speech. If we are not mistaken these same men, and their special friends, in 1849, would consent to nothing less than the Missouri compromise extending through California by act of Congress. They would give the Free States all North of that line, and the Slave States all South of it. They would allow Congress to abolish slavery on one side of a line; and, in fact, insisted upon such an adjustment of the question. Richardson voted as they wished, and as their Representatives voted. Now they hold such an adjustment unconstitntional, and are too fastidious to vote for Richardson, because he agreed with them then; and will not now consent that he violated the Constitution.

The editor of the Journal, too, is not satisfied with Richardson, who, he pretends, is not so abstractly Southern as Fuller. We should like to know what the editor of the Journal thinks now of Fuller's doctrine, if he understands him correctly. When did the editor of the Journal find out that Congress has no power over slavery in the Territories? It is only within the past ten or twelve years that this power of Congress has been called in question. We hold it the correct opinion that Congress has no such power. It is now the common one South and not uncommon North. But it is an opinion that is not a test of orthodoxy in any party. The man who holds that it is unjust and wrong to exercise such a power is quite as safe as the one that holds that no such power exists constitutionally.

It is an assertion that cannot affect the case one way or the other. It was only a few years ago that this power of Congress was allowed by all parties. The better opinion is of recent date, and thousands of national men will vote against the exercise of such a power, because they hold it just and right, as well as expedient, to do so, who would not pronounce upon the abstract question of power one way or the other.

Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Lancaster, of the Catholic Church.

We find this in the proceedings of the Kentucky Senate. It is a hopeless business this praying over a Senate of Know-Nothings. The chance of doing good by offering prayers over such a barren waste—hopeless enough! Mr. Lancaster, however, is obeying the order "pray for them who despitefully use you and persecute you."

☞ Mr. Alexander, the principal of the Female School in Middletown, has secured the aid of Mr. Woodford and lady, in the establishment. The institution is well located and well conducted; and affords excellent advantages for young ladies.

☞ Some people are getting very impatient with the present Congress; on the contrary, we are quite well pleased with its performances. It does far better than we expected. If it does no worse than vote for Speaker some two or three months, we shall have cause even to congratulate the country. Thousands are finding out that the anti Nebraska howl and bogus Americanism, are both arrant humbugs, that will not pay. Valuable discovery this to make!

☞ Two persons, returning from prayer meeting, near Keokuk, Iowa, were recently attacked and devoured by wolves.

☞ The La Crosse Democrat, says that the ice is two feet thick on the Mississippi river at that place.

GROUNDS OF DIVORCE.—A divorce was recently granted to a woman in Indiana, on the ground that her husband had cold feet! Decidedly cool.

☞ A citizen of Columbus claims to have discovered a coal bank on the Mississippi at that place.

☞ The names of several distinguished gentlemen are used by the Democratic papers of Illinois in connection with the next Governorship of that State.

☞ Farribault, the proprietor of a town by that name in Minnesota, and from whom a county was named—a noted Indian trader, and an early settler of the Territory—was lately shot by a Sionx Indian while out on a hunting exonrsion.

DISPENSARY.—Dr. Urban has taken an office on the east side of Sixth, between Market and Jefferson streets, where he is ready to attend to all professional calls. He keeps a supply of his well-known medicines constantly on hand. The afflicted will find they possess superior efficacy.

☞ James Caldwell, a man in humble circumstances, institnted suit for damages against Morris Tinkman, the minor son of a wealthy farmer, in the Circuit Court, Albion, N. Y., for seducing his daughter, only fifteen years of age. A verdict of $1,700 was rendered.

☞ Our exchanges, from all sections of the country, are coming in literally freighted with marriage notices. The colder the weather, the higher the fever. A few more such "spells" as the last would bankrupt the country of "single-blessedness," and make all nature musical with the prattlings of children in a very few years.

COLD.—A correspondent from St. Paul, Minnesota, says that for three weeks they were visited with the coldest weather ever known in that latitude. During part of the time the mercury went down as low as forty-three degrees below zero, whilst at no time within that period was it higher than twenty below.

☞ The Maine Legislature have already repealed the Know-Nothing naturalization law of last year. A good move.—Ex.

So goes the work of bogus Americanism, what little it had to do. Hadn't got started before it broke down.

☞ The Columbus Citizen, of Jan. 18, says: The river still remains filled with large masses of floating ice, rendering it almost impassable. Some few boats, with great risk and trouble, slowly force their way through.

☞ We would call the attention of the proper authorities to the condition of the old rickety wooden cellar doors on Market street. Yesterday a small girl broke through one of them and would have been seriously injured if a gentleman passing had not caught her just as her head was disappearing.

☞ Yesterday the Exchange Hotel had its doors thrown wide open to the public, and the "house warming" was worthy "mine hosts" and the gentlemen who gathered for the occasion. A superb dinner was served, and a kindly welcome extended to the many citizens present.

We doubt not, from this good beginning, the Exchange will at once take rank with the best houses of the West, and become as of old, the headquarters of country merchants visiting our city.

Mississippi U. S. Senator.

The Memphis Appeal, of January 18, learns by a dispatch from Mr. Barksdale, editor of the Mississippian, that Hon. Jeff. Davis, Secretary of War was, on Wednesday, elected United States Senator by the Legislatnre of Mississippi, as the successor of Hon. Stephen Adams, whose term of office will expire on the 4th of March, 1857. Col. Davis was previously nominated by a caucus of the Democratic members of the Legislature.

☞ A motion was made in the United States Circuit Court, New York, on Thursday, by Mr. F. B. Cutting, to compel the District Attorney to produce the indictment against Colonel French, the Minister from Nicaragua, and to commence at once with his trial. The motion was denied, as the Court could only compel the District Attorney to try an indictment within a reasonablo time, not immediately.

GAME.—The Sparta Watchman, of the 9th inst., says: This is a great country for game. During the last week, there have been about two hundred deer hauled through Sparta, on their way to New York city. They were all owned by one man, who bought them at four cents a pound. They were all killed a short distance north of Black River Falls by two men. One man killed over one hundred.

BRIDGING THE MISSISSIPPI AT BURLINGTON.—The Burlington Gazette is authorized to announce the fact that efficient measures are on foot for bridging the Mississippi at that place, and that the work will be commenced at an early day. The whole matter is already in the hands of highly competent and respectable persons, and the enterprise is a fixed fact beyond contingency.

☞ We are informed, by the ladies, that a beautiful testimonial, with an address, will be presented to Dr. Banning to-day by them, at 3 o'clock, in the Baptist Church, corner of Fourth and Walnut streets, and that, at the same hour, Dr. Banning will give a free lecture before both ladies and gentlemen, on the physical training of children and youth.

☞ A difficulty occurred yesterday afternoon between some boys at the corner of Second and Chestnut streets. The principals engaged in the difficulty were Hunter Swager, a son of Captain Joseph Swager, and John Brent, a son of Thos. Y. Brent, Esq. The result of the quarrel was, that John Brent was seriously stabbed, and young Swager arrested. An examination of the case will come off this morning. We were informed that the wound extends to the cavity of the chest, but is not necessarily fatal.

EXTENT AND POPULATION OF THE CENTRAL AMERICAN STATES.—The recently published book of Notes on Central America, by Mr. E. G. Squier, presents the following table of the area and population of the five States:

	Area of Square Miles.	Population.
Guatemala, - - -	43,380	850,000
Honduras, - - -	30,600	350,000
San Salvador, - -	9,594	394,000
Nicaragua, - - -	49,500	300,000

FIENDISH OUTRAGE.—The La Crosse (Wis.) Democrat states, that a short time since a barbarous outrage was committed upon a young girl near Warren's landing, on the Mississippi. A widower, with three grown up girls, has been endeavoring, for some time, to get rid of them in marriage. For this purpose he encouraged the visits of an Italian at the house, and did what he could to induce his eldest daughter to have him. She, however, strenuously refused. Last week the fellow called and requested a few words at the door with the girl; and when they were alone, he seized her by the nose, and with a pocket knife cut it off close up to the bridge. He escaped; his name is not known.

THE THEATRE.—There was a tolerably fair audience at the theatre last night. We did not see the first piece, but the afterpiece of the Windmill, proved quite a laughable one—rather too coarse and broad, however, to suit us. One portion of the performances did not please us as much as it might have done some one else. While we were engaged in watching the play, somebody swopped hats with us. The one we have is a first rate one—Hayes & Craig's manufacture, as well as our own, but then it isn't quite large enough for our cranium—that's all the objection. Our own contains a paper which we should like to have, as we do not wish to re-write it.

To-night Mrs. Hayne will play Parthenia to Hanley's Ingomar. Of course, there will be a good house present to witness her performance in this beautiful drama.

☞ Crystal palaces seem to be attended with a fatality. The one at London was purchased some time ago by a joint stock company, who removed it to Sydenham, and surrounded it with decorations that brought it almost to the level of some of the enchanted palaces described by Madame D'Aulnoy in her fairy tales. It is said now to be one of the most attractive places in the world; and yet its anticipated success, in a pecuniary point of view, is a failure. The company have expended the enormous sum of nearly $7,000,000 upon it, and yet it is not completed; and its prospects in the future are gloomy, for the company is without funds, and by the terms of their charter, they are not permitted to borrow more money than they have already borrowed. It is generally thought that many years will elapse before the first dividend is declared.

☞ The late European news seems to indicate, that little Denmark is about to join the alliance of the western powers in the war with Russia. Her object is, doubtless, to secure from them a stipulation that the tribute of old commercial nations shall still be paid her, in the shape of what she calls "Sound Dues."

We apprehend that even though this alliance should take place, the Union will not likely recede from the position it has so firmly assumed in reference to the payment of the tribute. The Americans will vote "millions for defence, but not a cent for tribute."

The alliance with Denmark wonldn't prove very profitable to the powers, especially if they should get into a war with this country on account of it. Denmark is not now what she was in the palmy days of Cannte, whose trinmphs made him think that he could make even the winds and sea obey him. Her power has departed, until her whole population now scarcely numbers two millions of souls, with an area of territory less in extent than that of Kentucky.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—An attache of the Little Miami Railroad, whose name we did not learn, had one of his feet severed from his leg on Saturday, at the crossing in the Seventeenth Ward. He jumped from a train, while it was under way, and one of his feet was thrown under the wheels.

IN SENATE.

MONDAY, Jan. 21, 1856.

Prayer by the Rev. Mr. Lancaster, of the Catholic church.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. Bullock, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported a bill authorizing the sale of certain streets in Simpsonville; passed.

Mr. Stone, from the Committee on Court of Appeals, reported a bill to extend the terms of the Court of Appeals, and to increase its jurisdiction and the salary of the Judges.

Ordered to be printed and made special order of the day for Thursday, 31st inst.

[The bill increases the terms to 72 days, and as much longer as the business may require: provides that no appeal shall lie, except when the judgment or decree relates to an office, franchise or freehold, or is against a divorce, if the matter in controversy does not amount to $50 exclusive of interest and costs; makes it the duty of the clerk to distribute the business of the court on the docket as equably for each day as may be; and increases the salaries of the Judges to $2,500 each per year, from and after the close of the present term].

Mr. Smith, from Committee on Circuit Courts, reported a bill to amend the act to establish a Sinking Fund for Bourbon county, and appoint commissioners thereof.

Mr. Harris, from Committee on County Courts, reported back a bill from the House to repeal an act to amend the act incorporating the town of Barboursville, with an amendment by way of substitute therefor.

Same, reported a bill to authorize the County Court of Shelby county to sell the poorhouse and grounds of said county; passed.

Also, a bill from the House to change the time of the January term of the Fleming Quarterly Court; passed.

Also, a bill to authorize the County Court of Logan county to sell, rent, or otherwise dispose of the old clerk's offices of said county: passed.

REPORT FROM A SELECT COMMITTEE.

Mr. Silvertooth, from select committee, reported a bill to amend the law in relation to the importation of slaves; referred to Committee on Revised Statutes.

[The bill repeals 2d article of chapter 93 Revised Statutes—except the 1st section thereof—and allows the importation of slaves, by either immigrants or citizens, without the making of any affidavit.]

LEAVE TO BRING IN BILLS.

Leave to bring in bills was granted, on motion, as follows:

Mr. Buckner, a bill to amend the 9th section of article 1, of the Revised Statutes, in reference to the solemnization of marriage; referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. Stone, a bill to regulate the docketing of cases in the Court of Appeals; referred to the Committee on the Court of Appeals.

Mr. Howard, a bill to restore attorney's fees in Quarterly Courts; referred to the Committee on County Courts.

Mr. Haggin, a bill to more effectnally promote the collection of forfeited recognizances in criminal cases; referred to the Committee on Revised Statutes.

Mr. King, a bill to amend the 1st section of article 17, of chapter 28, Revised Statutes, relating to Penal Offences and Punishment; referred to the Committee on Revised Statutes.

Mr. Walton, a bill to establish the common school month, in this Commonwealth; referred.

Mr. King offered the following joint resolution:

Resolved by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, That the Governor of this Commonwealth be and he is hereby requested and directed to have the remains of Ex-Governor Thos. Metcalfe, deceased, removed from the county of Nicholas, and suitably and appropriately deposited and interred in the Frankfort Cemetery, as a token of the high estimation in which the State of Kentucky holds the memory of the many valuable and distinguished services rendered by him as a soldier in defence of his country, and for his brilliant civil services in the councils of this State and the Union.

The rule requiring joint resolutions to lie one day on the table was dispensed with, and the resolution unanimously adopted.

ORDERS OF THE DAY.

A bill prohibiting the issue and circulation of notes under five dollars, came up in order. [The bill prohibits all banks from issuing notes under five dollars, and forfeits their charter for violation of the law.]

Mr. Smith offered a substitute for the bill. [The substitute provides that the circulation of such notes shall be unlawful, except when issued by a bank which has express authority therefor in its charter; and imposes a penalty equal to the amount of the note issued or circulated, for every offence.]

A debate ensued, in which Mr. Smith advocated the bill with the proposed amendment, and Messrs. Hardin, King, Stone, Conklin, and DeCourcy opposed it.

Mr. DeCourcy moved an amendment excepting Campbell and Kenton counties from the operation of the bill, but afterwards moved to lay both bill and amendments upon the table; which motion prevailed by a vote of 20 yeas to 12 nays.

A bill to provide for extending the area of the Penitentiary, and for building a new cell-house and hospital, came up in order.

[The bill appropriates $20,000, and the profits of the Penitentiary for two years, and appoints Gov. Morehead, Dr. W. C. Snead, Col. A. W. Dudley, and Dr. R. J. Spurr commissioners to superintend the expenditure, &c.]

Mr. Woodson addressed the Senate in favor of the bill, and it then passed by a vote of 23 yeas to 9 nays.

A bill to establish the Planters' Bank of Kentucky; made the special order for February 1st.

HOUSE BILLS.

Sundry House bills were taken up and referred.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, Jan. 21, 1856.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE.

A message was received from the Senate announcing that they had passed bills, which originated in the House, of the following titles, viz:

An act to amend an act entitled an act to amend and reduce into one the several acts relating to the town of Princeton, with amendments.

An act to incorporate the Wolf Hill Cemetery Company.

REPORTS FROM STANDING COMMITTEES.

Mr. Whiteley, Internal Improvement, a bill for the benefit of Geo. Early; referred to the Committee on Claims.

Same, a bill to amend the charter of the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad Company.

Same, a bill declaring Wolf creek, in Lawrence county, a navigable stream; passed.

Mr. Montgomery, Internal Improvement, a bill to regulate the rates of tolls upon the Wilderness Turnpike Road; passed.

Mr. Beauchamp, Agriculture and Manufactures, a bill to incorporate the Springfield Union Agricultural and Mechanical Association; passed.

Same, a bill to incorporate the Christian County Agricultural and Mechanical Association; passed.

JUDICIAL DISTRICTS.

The House then resolved itself into a committee of the whole House—Mr. Bruce in the Chair—upon the bill to divide the State into thirteen judicial districts.

Mr. Speaker (Huston) moved to amend the substitute by striking Powell from the 7th and adding it to the 11th district; and after some discussion, in which Mr. Speaker (Huston), Messrs. Hanson, Hewitt, Phil. Lee, Bowling, Corbett, Menzies, Nuttall, and others took part, on motion of Mr. Montgomery the committee rose, reported progress, and had leave to sit again.

☞ Pending the discussion of questions connected with the trial of Col. French, on the 18th inst., in New York, the following additional items of his personal history were disclosed:

"I have only to say, that my personal acquaintance with Col. French commenced some six or eight years ago. He came, apparently a youth, from the State of Kentucky. He is connected by consanguinity to some of the most distinguished families of that gallant State. He shortly afterwards married a highly accomplished lady, whose connections also held the highest positions in Illinois. This gentleman was among the first to proceed to California, for the purpose of aiding to bring that Territory into the Union as one of the States. He became one of her most distinguished citizens, having held the office of District Attorney in one of the counties, and having been afterwards elected to the Legislature of the State of California, where he brought upon himself great credit.

"He went to Nicaragua and held successively the office of Commissary General and Secretary of the Treasury. In the latter office he almost revolutionized that department; discharging the duties of its chief with great success and honor. He was chosen to represent his Government in the United States. Numerous as have been the offices which he has filled, from all has resulted the highest personal credit and individual respect. He has now attained the age of thirty years, but has during that time, filled a high position in the public esteem, and has acquired a strong hold upon the affections of many communities of men."

A HUNTER FOUND DEAD.—A man named Tulle, who had gone out for the purpose of hunting, was found dead, three or four miles below Nanvoo, on Monday last. He was lying on his back, frozen stiff.—Carthage (Ill.) Rep.

HORSE THIEF CAUGHT.—We learn that a gentleman who had hired a first-rate horse and sleigh from a livery stable keeper in St. Paul to go to St. Anthony, and then left for parts unknown, was overtaken by the owner between Prairie du Chien and Patch Grove a few days ago. The thief had three days' start of the owner, but by frequently changing horses, and traveling day and night, the latter managed to come up with him and recover his property. The thief was taken back to St. Paul.—Galena Courier, Jan. 16th.

Great Destruction of Property!

THE RICHMOND AND DANVILLE RAILROAD DEPOT IN RUINS!!

On Saturday evening last, between the hours of seven and eight o'clock, the entire roof of the large and elegant depot of the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company, in this city, gave way from the great weight of snow upon it, and falling in, crushed out the brick walls, making a complete wreck of the whole building. The depot was 225 feet long on the west side, 210 feet on the east side, and 132 feet wide, and being covered in by one roof, supported only by small iron rods, presented a wide surface for the falling snow, which had accumulated to a depth of several inches before the accident occurred. Fortunately no one was in the building at the time, and no lives were, therefore, lost. This depot was erected at a cost of $25,000 to the company about two years since, and was one of the largest in the South. When the roof gave way the north gable end was thrown out with such force that the weight of the bricks burst through the south wall of Mr. Archibald Thomas' factory, injuring that house to the amount of several hundred dollars. It is impossible to estimate the loss to the company, and to the merchants and farmers who had freight in the depot, but we fear it will fall but little short of $50,000, as there was in the building, at the time of the occurrence, some fifteen thousand bushels of wheat, besides hogsheads and cases of tobacco, lots of guano and merchandize of almost every character. There were also two or three freight cars crushed by the falling timbers, and one of them literally ground into fragments.—Richmond Dispatch.

DEATH OF MAJ. R. A. WILLIAMSON.—We have the sad duty to record the melancholy and horrible death of this estimable man, Maj. R. A. Williamson, Superintendent of the Memphis and Ohio Railroad. This fearful accident occnrred yesterday morning about 9½ o'clock, some sixteen miles from town, on the "Hatchie Bridge," over the waters known as Griffin's creek, some three hundred yards from the Shelby depot. Mr. W. was on the train as it passed the bridge, and in the hindmost car, and it is supposed that he placed his head far out of the train's passage, and was looking backward when his head came in contact with a post of the bridge, killing him instantly. His body fell from the car into the water below, and as no one in the train was noticing his position at the time of the accident, the train passed on without discovering it.—Memphis Appeal, 18th inst

RAVAGES OF WOLVES IN IOWA—TWO PERSONS DEVOURED.—Owing to the extreme cold weather for some time past, the wolves in Pottawattamie county have become dangerous neighbors. Poultry-yards and sheep-folds have been robbed to a frightful extent, and in several instances the hungry beasts have not been inclined to spare the human species.

About three weeks ago a man was returning from a prayer-meeting, accompanied by his two daughters, one sixteen and the other twenty-three years of age. They were all riding the same horse, when suddenly a pack of timber wolves assailed them, and, being unable to escape by flight, they attempted to defend themselves; but the ferocious brutes attacked the horse, rendering him unmanageable. The oldest daughter was partly thrown and partly dragged to the ground, and instantly devoured. This enabled the father and other daughter to escape. Several neighbors were soon mustered, but, upon repairing to the spot, nothing was found but one shoe and a very few remnants of the unfortunate girl's clothing.

A boy about thirteen years old left his father's house to get water at a spring, which was about a half a mile distant, since which time nothing has been seen of him. The pail was found near the spring; also, some marks of blood, and a lock or two of hair. Several persons have been chased by these savage monsters.—Keokuk Post, 11th.

CONSOLING TO PRINTERS.—The Chicago Citizen, in speaking of the demise of a printer in that city, makes the following very cheering remarks to the craft:

"The lot of the printer is hard, but his troubles are of short duration. He is emphatically a transient man. The average length of life of printers is less than that of any other class of men."

BUSINESS ON THE ICE.—Now that the ferryboats have all stopped, the crossing has all to be done on the ice over the road opposite the foot of Chestnut street, and, as might be supposed, that thoroughfare presents quite a lively and business-like appearance. On yesterday and this morning the entire road across the river was filled with all kinds of vehicles going and coming. The ice, on account of the change in the weather, has become more solid and firm than it was a day or two previous, and no danger is apprehended in crossing on it. In fact, it is the only crossing there is, and teams are either compelled to cross on it or stay where they are.—St. Louis Intelligencer, Jan. 20.

COWHIDING.—The suit of John Goyer, before Judge Gholson, against J. W. Hall, for an assault upon him with a cowhide, was decided Saturday for the plaintiff, the jury returning a verdict of $3 damages. This is about the amount any man would deserve who should adopt this method to redress a stigma so grievous. Judge Johnson, in closing for the prosecution, remarked that the rawhide was a weapon whose infliction no man of spirit could bear. He might have gone further, and said that such a punishment would be apt to infuse spirit into the variest coward that crawled.

A New Political Organization.

We have received several letters from different parts of the southern division of this State, advising us of a new political organization. It is intended to preserve the old Whig party in some sort of organization. It is framed upon forms and procedures similar to the Know Nothing party, retaining the anti-foreign principles of that party, but repudiating the anti-Catholic features. It is anti-Abolition, and styles itself the "national" party. It has already enrolled nearly all the Whigs of Southern Illinois, and thousands of the same party in Missouri, Kentucky, and the counties of Indiana bordering on this State.

We need hardly warn our Democratic friends to avoid this new party. It is the same old enemy who has been beaten and dispersed under the varied shapes of anti-Democracy. Keep aloof from it, as you would from a pest house. Our party now can carry every Congressional District in this State, and do not let us lose our supremacy through the wily seductions of the enemy.
Chicago Times, Jan. 19.

DON VALENCIA IN LIMBO.—The New Orleans Crescent of Friday, Jan. 4, publishes the following in its local department:

The colebrated Vera Cruz barber, Mexican hero, and logwood blood-spitter, H. Sheppard, alias Chas Schenck, alias Chas. Cannon, alias Count Rougnout, alias Capt. Valencia, alias Capt. Carlos, was arrested yesterday afternoon on Common street, by Lieut. Adams, and calaboosed as a dangerous and suspicious character. He was elegantly dressed, had a gold watch and chain, twenty-five cents in cash, and a dirk-knife, loaded revolver, and any quantity of ammunition.

This fellow figured largely some five or six years ago, at the Amelia Springs, and subsequently at Richmond, Va., where he is doubtless well remembered by many who were made the victims of his great powers of dissemblance.

SUIT AGAINST A NEWSPAPER FOR LIBEL.—On the 15th instant, an action was commenced in Philadelphia against the Public Ledger of that city, by one John Donnelly, a manufacturer of friction matches, for libel. It was alleged on the part of the plaintiff that his business, on account of the publication of the alleged libel, had gradually dwindled away, and that he was utterly ruined in consequence. The article complained of was headed "Wife-Whippers," and after a few general remarks on the subject, went on to state that Donnelly had "laid such violent hands on his wife as to force her to flee" to the police for protection, and that he had been arrested on her complaint and locked up. It was said that the plaintiff's house was surrounded for several days after by a mob of women and children, crying, "Look at the wild man beast—the wife-whipper!" The law in the State of Pennsylvania in such matters is, that the greater the truth is, the greater the libel. After a hearing of the testimony on both sides, the case was submitted to the jury, who yesterday brought in a verdict for the plaintiff of one dollar and costs.—N. Y. Times, 17th.

A DAUGHTER'S DEVOTION.—The following incident is related in connection with a horrible accident on the Hudson River Railroad, near Poughkeepsie;

"Mr. Dewey, an old resident of Poughkeepsie, was in the second car with his daughter. He was buried beneath the ruins, while his daughter escaped almost uninjured. Her first thought was to assist her father, and with a strength almost superhuman, engaged in removing the wreck, and by her example inciting others to the most untiring efforts. She at last had the satisfaction of rescuing her father, but so unmindful of herself had she been, as hardly to know that she had frozen both of her feet so badly that amputation of some of the toes will be necessary. Where do the records of the battle-field exhibit more devoted courage than was displayed by this heroic girl?"

☞ A man fell in a well at Exchange Buildings, on Monday evening last, and when taken out was dead. He is said to have been intoxicated at the time of the fall.—Memphis Enquirer

DEATH OF JOHN MCDOWELL.—We heard with deep regret last Saturday of the death of our young and esteemed friend, John McDowell, formerly of this city, and son of the late Dr. W. A. McDowell. He died in New Orleans week before last. John was an upright, intelligent, and most excellent young man, and enjoyed the respect and love of all who knew him. The deep sorrow of the bereaved family from which an ornament has thus been snatched, is shared by the many friends of the deceased at this, his old home.

A Foul Murder and Robbery.

A few days ago we published an account from a Hannibal paper of the mysterious disappearance of a Frenchman named Jules Du Collier, who, in company with a man named William Hull, arrived in that city about the first of the present month. They registered their names, took lodgings in the same room, and seemed intimate friends. Their baggage consisted of three trunks. Next day they went out hunting—in the evening Hull returned alone, and reported that Du Collier had met an old friend in the woods, and would not return till next day. Early next morning Hull hired a private conveyance and left for Quincy, Ill., taking with him two trunks, one of which is supposed to have belonged to Du Collier. Some days elapsed, when Du Collier not returning, the people of Hannibal resolved to unravel the mystery by a search in the direction the men had taken. Five or six men went out for this purpose, but they were unsuccessful. Next day, the 12th, a larger number went out, and about noon they found the body of Du Collier in a brush thicket, between the Cave and the Methodist Cemetery, about two miles southeast of Hannibal. He had been shot through the head, the ball entering the back part of it near the ear, passing through and lodging just above the eye, in the skin. His body was hard frozen, probably in the very position in which he had fallen. The report of the shot was heard by persons not more than two or three hundred yards from the scene of the murder, and the murderer was seen a few moments afterwards walking leisurely along the road.

Hull reached Quincy, remained there two or three days, and then took the Northern Cross road for Galesburg, stating that he was going from thence to Chicago. He is described as about five feet seven inches high, light complexion, dark hair, has a small patch of sandy whiskers on the chin, a small scar on his upper lip, and two or three of his front teeth are out. He weighs about 150 lbs., is spare made, and tw

Every Day Brings Something New.

So much has been said about Ambrotypes, Photographs, and Daguerreotypes that we hardly know which deserves the palm. There is one thing, however, that we feel justified in saying to our lady readers, and that is: If they will visit ROESBERG'S Mammoth Daguerrean Gallery, No. 531 Main street, between Second and Third, they will find some of those elegantly finished and life-like Daguerreotypes which have rendered these rooms the resort of the beauty and fashion of the city and country. The pictures taken by Roesberg do not make the light and heir appear as dark as mi ulight (s a) ult by far too common in Ambrotypes), but they show a proper distinction of light and shade, and "hold, as it were, the mirror up to nature," correctly portraying the peculiar features of the originals. So, we advise all to be no longer humbugged with high priced likenesses, while these magnificent pictures may be obtained for fifty cents and upwards. At this gallery may also be found one of the finest assortments of Cases in the city, which are sold cheaper than at any other house. Call and you will be satisfied.

Necessaries of Life.

Flour, Whisky, and Tobacco have long been regarded he necessaries of life—but it is a mistake. We can't buy Flour—that is, Daguerreotypists can't—for it is too dear; the temperance men wont let us drink Whisky, and the Tobacco crop is a failure. What we can't get it is plain we must do without, and what we can do without is not a necessary. The proverb, then, is a falsehood. But one of HARRIS'S Daguerreotypes—bright sparkling, rich, bold, and clear—which we can get and cannot do without—that is a necessary of life. no23

Why Females Suffer in Health.

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S Private Medical Companion,

BY DR. A. M. MAURICEAU,

PROFESSOR OF DISEASES OF WOMEN.

One Hundredth Edition (500,000) 18mo., pp. 250. Standard work of established reputation, found classed in the catalogues of the great Trade Sales of New York, Philadelphia, and other cities, and sold by the principal booksellers in the United States.

Every woman can here discover, by comparing her own symptoms with those described, the nature, character, and cause of her complaint, and be spared much anxiety and suffering, as well as the unpleasantness of making known to, or making inquiry of, a physician in respect to the numberless ailments to which she is subject. The wife about becoming a mother has often need of instruction and advice in respect to her situation, which she will here find. This book tells her what is the matter, and tells her what to do for it, in simple but chaste words, and such as she can understand.

Those suffering from obstructions or irregularities peculiar to the females system, or from prolapsus uteri (falling of the womb,) or from fluor albus, will each find in it pages the means of prevention, amelioration, and relief.

Much distress of mind, as well as thousands pecuniarily, might be saved to every husband, if the simplest laws appertaining to the marriage state were better understood. That they are better understood is traceable to that natural and almost commendable sensitiveness, that will rather suffer than consult or converse with even a medical man in respect to complaints peculiar to the female only.

In a copy of "The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion," every female has a physician that know and describes her every symptom, feeling, and ailment and which she can consult at all times without violence to her sensitiveness.

[Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Dayton, Ohio.]

DAYTON, May 1, 1847.

DR. A. M. MAURICEAU—My Dear Sir: My wife has been perceptibly sinking for some three years or more, in consequence of great anguish and suffering some months before and during confinement; every successive one more and more debilitated and prostrated her, putting her life in imminent danger, and which was on the last occasion despaired of. I supposed that the state of things was inevitable, and resigned myself to meet the worst. I heard your book highly spoken of, as containing some matters reaching my case. On its receipt and perusal I cannot express to you the relief it afforded my dist , mind, and the joy its pages imparted to my wife, on learning that the great discovery of M. M. Desomeaux provided a remedy. It opened a prospect to me which I little conceived was possible. But for this, ere another year would have passed over my head, in all human probability my wife would have been in her grave and my children left motherless.

Straw-Cutter Question.

MESSRS. J. B. FORD & CO., OF the city of New Albany, in the state of Indiana, claiming to be the owners of Sanford's patent right to manufacture what is known as Sanford's Straw-Cutter, have sent the right to manufacture the same to various persons to certain prescribed Territories, and they have sent one of their patent Straw-Cutters to the manufactured by us. We have been for a long time satisfied that the so called Sanford patent is a fraud, and now it is evident, being a popular pun and an infringement of the patent right of Lucas & Flint, which bears date 30th day of September, 1853, and has expired. We have been satisfied that the machine commonly termed a Perfect Straw-Cutter is constructed by us according to the specifications contained in Lucas & Flint's patent, but according to the specifications contained in Boynton's, and as this has been recently sanctioned in the U. S. Circuit Court for the middle district of Tennessee.

Some months since we sold to B. S. Weller, of Nashville, several of the so called Sanford Straw Cutters, which were taken by him to the state of Tennessee and there sold. Chas. B. Alexander claimed to be the assignee for Sanford's patent for State of Tennessee from J. B. Ford & Co., and sued Weller on infringement. Weller defended, and insisted that Sanford's patent is void and a piracy, and in Boynton's, and, as we believe said, court and jury so decided.

We are prepared, as heretofore, to furnish all orders for the Straw-Cutters manufactured by us, and to defend any and every person using the same.

Lacour's Improved Process,
For manufacturing Liquors, Cordials, Effervescing Beverages, Vinegar, Bitters, Syrups, Essences, Wines, &c.

ALL KINDS OF LIQUOR CAN BE MANUFACTURED FOR 12 TO 50 CENTS PER GALLON.

AN OUTLAY OF $2 WILL FUR the apparatus for converting Whisky and Water into the strongest Vinegar in 36 hours, at a cost of two to three cents per gallon.

Twenty cents is necessary for this purpose are Wine or Whisky barrels. The substances with which they are filled, for the purpose of making Vinegar, can be found in any of the forests of America. As simple as this process may appear, for the product of Vinegar, the ingredients will forfeit $100 for every failure.

The most approved methods are given for constructing best bitters. Complete instruction for bottling and barrelling all kinds of liquors, and for restoring the appearance of old barrels new, and for giving age to new barrels. Instructions for detecting impurities or adulterations in all kinds of liquors, and for obtaining a French flavor from other qualities of Brandy. All the labor is mentioned below, the book gives two orders of making them; by the first they are made "all hand," requiring only the a mix ure of the materials as given in the recipe. The second requires a little machinery, but will be artificial strength, flavor, &c., and be suitable for the second order of purchase. The use of apparatus, and a certain knowledge of time is shown. For the apparatus and ingredients there cannot be distinguished from the most imported liquors.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE PRESS.

This work will be found to supply the desiderata in queries, wines, vinegar, &c., with a thorough teaching of the whole matter, and the varied and intricate processes of this business.—N. O. Picayune.

It were a work of supererogation to praise a book of Mons. Lacour's writing. The volume colors us to remarkable for its completeness and the exact practical directions by which light and shade are given. All the old nostrums entirely superseded. The list of the old formulas would appear as the "doom of folly." In the practice of the best, there suggested in this work. One of the principal objects aimed to be avoided, as far as possible, the use of apparatus, or expensive to the operator) appliances of any kind in the manufacture of liquors, &c.—New York Times.

This volume contains the art of preparing and putting up the whole list of drinkables, from a choice pipe of Oard Dupuy, of the vintage of 1795, to a simple and economical manner of making cider wine, apples, by fermenta tion. A friend has applied the receipt to condemned cider (a gallon of which is worth 40 cents) with the most satisfactory results. The latter quantity does not possess an equal amount of intoxicating properties to the former, though the 40 gallons saved is much finer flavored, than the "cider."—Albany York Mechanic.

This much talked of book is at hand. It contains a mass of information that is positively astonishing, and would only have been acquired from actual observation. If you wish to see ingenuity applied, look in a copy of Lacour on Liquors. Particularly applied to flavoring, the design of the author. Novelists are necessary to ascertain the results of an application of a recipe. We speak from actual observation.—Rail Saw.

This work will revolutionize the present style of manufacturing liquors.—New York Herald.

Lacour's book far in the art of making and bottling effervescing temperance beverages, liquors wines, and pure vinegar on the table, should be in the hands of every housekeeper in the country. The cost of the book is trifling, and it offers this morning, some of the most valuable receipts that ever appeared in print. How so much information can be given for two dollars is the most astonishing feature connected with the book.—New York Times.

LACOUR ON LIQUOR.—This is the most complete work on the manufacture of liquors that we ever met with; it contains an immense number of formulas for making every variety of liquors, cordials, effervescing syrups, vinegar, &c., &c. The work is published by many prominent Rectifiers are dealers and in portery of liquors in this city. This alone would speak more in favor of the reliability of the work than could be otherwise said.—N. O. Delta.

Quit Drinking Poisonous Liquors!
LACOUR'S PATENT IMPROVED PROCESS
For making all kinds of Liquors and Vinegar,
INSTANTLY, BY THE USE OF Lacour's Essential Oils.

These Oils are obtained by Distillation at the Chemical Laboratory (pupil and fellow) of Pierre Lacour, Author of Lacour's Chemical Analysis, Lecour's Chemical Manipulations, Lacour on the Manufacture of Liquors, &c.

LACOUR'S OIL OF COGNAC, converts neutral spirit into a perfect imitation of Imported Brandies, viz: Otard, Sarterac, Marett Cognac, Poultney, Seignette, United Vineyard Proprietors, Castillon, and London Dock Brandies. The liquor will have a rich flavor, color, and taste of the original. Common Rectified Whisky will be changed, by the use of the Oil of Cognac, to New York Brandy, Fine Apple Brandy, common Cognac Brandy, &c.

LACOUR'S OIL OF RYE changes common Rectified Whisky to Monongahela Rye Whisky, old Virginia Malt Whisky, Bourbon Whisky, &c.

OIL OF CORN AL changes common Rectified Whisky to Old Irish Malt Whisky, and a superior article of Scotch Whisky.

OIL OF PEACH changes common Whisky to Virginia Peach Brandy, &c. Oil of Peach and Oil of Cognac will give you common Whisky to Apple Brandy.

OIL OF GIN converts the poorest Whisky to Holland Gin, Schiedam Schnapp, Rose Gin, Swan Gin, Anisette Gin, &c.

LACOUR'S CONCENTRATED ACID will, in five hours after being mixed, change five gallons of good Vinegar and twenty-five gallons of water, to thirty gallons of the most acid Vinegar that can be found in the market. By the use of Lacour's Concentrated Acid Vinegar can be made for one dollar and sixty cents per barrel.

FOR MAKING LIQUORS, Lacour's Oils require no preparation—only pouring the Oil into the Whisky and shaking well. The Liquids thus made will have a full natural aroma—a rich, rich taste—a beautiful transparent color and a true bead. Lacour's Oils exert the certain properties in conversing common Whisky to Brandy, Gin, &c., &c. The Liquors by Lacour's Oils and essences in the form of fluorient particles the whole of the gin or oil, (ample Alcohol) The whisky is thus deprived of that peculiar irritating and burning taste, and becomes a neutral spirit like pure rod, properly combustible and only under such taste imparted to the Liquor, which results in mellow, and imparts an appearance of great age to the time pr perty is exhibited in the rich, vinous, and ripe flavor that is characteristic of the Liquor, with it no desire distinction from the Genuine Brands in possible.

These Oils are put up in quart bottles, each bottle containing sufficient Oil for making 250 gallons of liquor. Full and complete instructions accompany the bottles. Price, $2 per bottle.

One bottle of these Oils (five in number) will be securely packed and shipped (with full directions) free of charge to any part of the country, upon the receipt of $10, the address of F. LACOUR,
New Orleans.

CHERRY PECTORAL,
For the rapid Cure of
COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

"Wisdom shall bow down to it, and the great of the earth hall kneel before it."

NEVER COULD THIS BE SAID with more truth than it now applies to this remedy for affections of the throat and lungs. The exalted in learning and power acknowledge its supremacy, while both the little and the great feel its need. The literati made among those skilled to cure are free to own its mastery over most ingers which have baffled their art. Those of exalted station are not ashamed to confess its efficacy, and deem it duty and pleasure to thus hold out the lamp of their experience to their suffering fellow men. Witness the following:

[Translation.]

VERMI LIONVILLE, La., April, 1853.

Mons. le Dr. J. C. AYER—I have of late occasion frequent use of your Cherry Pectoral in my practice, and am happy to inform you that in no case has it failed me. I have made some signal cures of Laryngitis and Bronchitis which had resisted every other medicine I could employ.

Accept, Sir, the assurances of my distinguished consideration.

Late Surgeon of the royal Marine, France.

Extract from a letter of our Minister at the Court of the Sublime Porte:

LEGATION OF THE U. S. A., }
CONSTANTINOPLE, Turkey. }

Dr. J. C. AYER—Dear Sir: The Cherry Pectoral received from you for the Sultan has been delivered to his private secretary at the palace, and you will doubtless hear from it in due season. That you were so kind as to send me two bottles for myself and family, who have in many cases found it exceedingly useful.

Yours respectfully,
HON. P. MARSH,
Minister Plenipotentiary of the U. S. A. to Turkey.

CURACOA, March 5, 1853.

Dr. J. C. AYER: I use your Cherry Pectoral daily in my practice, and am satisfied it is a remedy which must meet in every country the highest approbation.

We will adduce a long array of certificates to show its value, but, and this we shall be from gentlemen high in standing and in the first rank of society. Rev. Wm. L. Breckinridge, Judge Asher Graham, Judge Wm. V. Loving, Dr. Haggard, and Dr. A. C. Porter.

Dr. PRICE'S CHRONIC SPECIFIC is the best Alterative Tonic and Blood Purifier ever compounded. It is united to cure Scrofula, White Swelling, the pimpled Consumption, Female diseases, Dyspepsia, General Debility, Rheumatism, Kidney Affections, Sore Eyes, and all Cutaneous Diseases, &c.

From Hon. J. R Underwood.

I have seen many of Dr. Price's patients afflicted with the Scrofula, both before and after they were healed. It is certain that in cases of the most inveterate character seemed to yield readily to his Chronic Specific. I have seen enough of its effects on others to justify me in bearing testimony to its efficacy.

Bowling Green, Ky. JOS. R. UNDERWOOD.

From Rev. Wm. L. Breckinridge.

A servant girl in my family was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. No with stability she had medical treatment upon the whole she grew worse, until I feared that she would become totally blind. She was placed under Dr. Price's treatment, and to all appearances a radical cure was performed. For several months past she has seemed to me, as she does now, to be perfectly free from any of the symptoms of the disease, and to be in perfect health in other respects.

Louisville, Ky. WM. L. BRECKINRIDGE.

From Judge Asher Graham,

(Formerly a member of the Bench of the Court of Appeals).

I have seen some of Dr. Price's patients. They appeared to have been very much diseased, almost beyond all hopes of recovery. They now seem to be perfectly relieved.

Bowling Green, Ky. ASHER GRAHAM.

From Judge Wm. V. Loving,

(The American Candidate for Governor).

I have seen several of Dr. Price's patients; among others, Mr. S. H. Dickerson, of Monroe co. At the time I saw him he was unable from head to foot. The left side of his face and neck was greatly enlarged and swollen. All of the left side of his neck, breast, and right shoulder were a mass of filthy ill smelling and running sores. As he would move his arms the air would be expelled from deep ulcerous chambers, causing filthy matter to run out. By the use of the Chronic Specific he has improved to that extent that some of these ulcers extended into the hollow of the body. Mr. Dickerson put himself under Dr. Price's treatment, who administered his remedies, and, strange to tell, a permanent cure was effected.

Bowling Green, Ky. WM. V. LOVING.

From Dr. D. R. Haggard,

(President of the Board of Internal Improvement).

Within my own knowledge, Dr. Price, who now resides in Louisville, has been highly successful in curing Scrofula. Some of the worst cases that have occurred in Kentucky have been cured by the use of the Chronic Specific. I can all hope and fear, he was applied to, and his treatment restored them to perfect health. Three of these cases were cured within a few miles of my residence. D. R. HAGGARD.
